“ I'm so very sorry for your loss. I will always remember her kindness. I was a young sister-in-law and she and Sonny opened their home and hearts to me. We shared some really good times and I won't ever forget her or Sonny.

“ Thoughts and prayers are with the Campbell family. I remember meeting her when I worked with Lisa at Captain D's when it was located on 25th St. She was such a kind soul. She will be sorely missed by all those that loved her. May you lean on God for comfort and strength.

“ DEATH can be an enemy or death can be a friend; it can be feared or it can be welcomed. Our very dear friend opened her arms and embraced death by stepping into life ever after. Her body now free from pain, ANNA CAMPBELL presently walks hand in hand with Jesus through eternity. She touched the lives of her friends daily, and especially those at our weekly Bible Study where her easy smile spread contagious joy to her fellow students. Her sparkling eyes always reflected a hint of mischief until she began to talk of the Lord she so dearly loved; then they flowed with tears of gratitude. We will mourn her absence from us, but we also will rejoice with her at her homecoming in heaven.
